Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 01 August 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9, 11 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schenck, et al. (6,076,854).

Schenck discloses an inflatable vehicle occupant protection device; a least one tether 22; an inflation fluid having two modes of operation wherein in the first mode of operation, the inflation fluid source is activated, in the second mode of operation, the inflation fluid source is activated to provide a second inflation fluid pressure in the inflatable vehicle occupant protection device higher than the first pressure, the tether remaining intact in response to the first inflation fluid pressure in the inflatable vehicle occupant protection device, the tether releasing in response to the second inflation fluid pressure in the inflatable vehicle occupant protection device. Schenck disclose dual stage igniters 32, 34, and an electronic circuitry (not shown). The device is made of fabric material and includes a back wall defining an opening and a front wall opposite the back wall, the front and back walls defining an interior chamber. Schenck teaches a vent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which the subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 10, 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schenck (20040046376) in view of Amamori (6,502,858).

Schenck teaches the claimed invention except for a tether having a first and second lengths.

Amamori teaches an airbag device having tethers comprising first and second lengths. The tether comprises a piece of elongate fabric material having first and second opposite facing surfaces and first and second terminal ends, as shown in the figures. The terminal end of the tether is fixed to a front wall and the second terminal end of the tether is fixed to a back wall of Amamori's airbag device. The tether includes a tear stitch and a plurality of tethers are coupled together with a single tear stitch as shown in figure 5. Based on the teachings of Amamori, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the tethers of Schenck to have first and second lengths to accommodate the expansion of an airbag during deployment to a restricted shape.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 14-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
